

Summary

Features of primary school pupils' humanistic culture development in terms of Federal State Educational Standard of Primary General Education

Features of humanistic culture development during primary school age are being revealed in the article, basic components of it are being determined. Theoretical model of primary school pupils' humanistic culture development has been developed by the author in terms of new Federal State Educational Standards and pedagogical terms of its implementation.

Keywords: primary school pupils, development of humanistic culture, components of primary school pupils' humanistic culture, Federal State Educational Standards.

Sharafutdinova Svetlana Fidailevna – senior tutor at Theory and Methods of Primary School Education Cathedra of Institute of Education Development of Bashkortostan Republic, Ufa, Bashkortostan Republic.

Development of regulative multipurpose educational activities among primary school pupils in the frames of "Educational robotics" extracurricular course

Opportunity of using LEGO WeDo© constructors as a mean of different components of regulative multipurpose educational activities development of primary school pupils is being considered in the article. Program of extracurricular course "Educational robotics" with the use of LEGO Education WeDo© constructor is being presented.

Keywords: educational robotics, primary school pupils, regulative multipurpose educational activities, extracurricular work.

Lukyanovich Anna Konstantinovna – post-graduate at Pedagogy, Psychology and Subject Methods Cathedra of Chelyabinsk State Pedagogical University, Chelyabinsk.

System of exercises aimed towards the development of self-control and self-evaluation of primary school pupils' educational activities when teaching Natural Science subject

System of exercises aimed towards the development of self-control and self-evaluation of primary pupils' educational activities while teaching Natural Science subject is being offered in the article. Examples of exercises for junior school pupils and method of their application in educational process organization are being offered.

Keywords: system of exercises, exercise, self-control and self-evaluation of educational activities, primary school pupils, Natural Science tutoring.

Izhoikina Ludmila Viktorovna – senior lecturer at Subject Technologies of Primary and Pre-School Education Cathedra of Omsk State Pedagogical University, Omsk.

Forms of Specially Protected Natural Reservations educational environment application in primary and secondary school

Forms of different levels of Specially Protected Natural Reservations (SPNR) application in research activity of pupils as unique nature-social and economic-geographical formations are being considered in the article. Educational potential of SPNR could be used for processing nature and society interaction mechanisms in the frames of stable development conception and helps to develop both subject and meta-subject knowledge among pupils.

Keywords: Specially Protected Natural Reservations, forms of educational activities, project-research activity of pupils, educational environment, cultural-ecological educational environment of a region.

Denisov Dmitry Aleksandrovich – post-graduate at Nizhegorod State Pedagogical University in the name of K. Minin;

Kiseleva Nadezhda Jurevna – Candidate of Pedagogy, senior lecturer at Ecology and Ecological Education Cathedra of Nizhegorod State Pedagogical University in the name of K. Minin, Nizhniy Novgorod.

Methodical aspects of text activity during Russian language lessons at profile classes

The article is devoted to an issue of teaching 9–11 forms pupils the understanding of fiction text style. Stages of work are being described; techniques of text activity organization aimed towards the comprehension of meaning, theme, author's point of view, ability to have independent dialogue with text and create a logical statement are being offered.

Keywords: high school pupils, text activity, meaning of fiction text, dialogue with author, predicting of meaning, theme's comprehension, creating of a logical statement.

Chaptykova Natalia Petrovna – Russian language and Literature teacher at school № 24, Abakan, Hakasiya Republic.